Thursday—Omaha Women's Press club, annual meeting and luncheon, Hotel Loyal, 1 p. m.; Comis club, Mrs. Arthur Hoover, hostess; Elka Dancing club party; White Shrine social, Masonic temple.

Saturday—The Dancers, Hotel Fontenelle. Society will sit at the feet of the Muses this winter. Of music, art, drama and the dance especially will we enjoy and learn much.

Early in November, the Omaha Society of Fine Arts inaugurates its lecture course which will include lecturers of national and international fame. Prof. Charles Zaubin, of Boston; John Cowper Powys of Oxford, England; Alfred Noyes, of the English; Walter Scott, Poet of Brookline; A. D. F. Hamlin of New York; Lorado Taft of Chicago; and Raymond Wyer of Muskegon, Mich., are included in the list.

Dramatic Stars. The newly-organized Omaha center of the Drama League of America will bring us stars in the dramatic firmament, besides arranging an attractive list of local speakers who will present different phases of the drama Monday afternoon of each week at the public library. Lady Gregory comes to the Brandeis theater to talk on "The Irish Theater" October 23, under the auspices of this league.

One treat for which Omahans were preparing has been made impossible by the removal of Everett Dean Martin from Des Moines to New York City. Mr. Martin had been engaged by the Social Settlement board to give a series of lectures on "The Spirit of Modern Life."

Notes of Interest. Mr. and Mrs. Clement Chase are expected in Omaha about October 25 to spend a week. They will be the guests of Mr. Warren Rogers at the Beaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lem Hill left Thursday to make a motor trip to California. At Denver they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. James McGill, who will make the remainder of the trip with them. The party will be gone two months.

Mrs. John G. Bourke arrived Wednesday from the east and is at the Fontenelle for ten days. Mrs. Bourke and her daughters left Omaha two or three years ago and have been in Washington and Philadelphia most of the time. Miss Anna Bourke is at present in Arizona and Pauline, now Mrs. Alexander Malach, is living near Philadelphia.

Arthur Loomis and Philip Chase, two Omaha boys at Cornell, have made the Mandolin club, which with the Glee club makes concert tours at Christmas time and has been heard in Omaha several times.

Mrs. William E. Martin leaves tomorrow for Moline, Ill., to make arrangements for the series of lectures to be given there by Mrs. Anthony Merrill the end of this month.

Mr. Charles Kountze arrived home Wednesday from the east. Mrs. Kountze went from Cleveland, where they stopped to see their son, Dennis, at the University school, to Indianapolis to visit Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Nicholson, and will not be home until next week.

Campfire Luncheon. A campfire luncheon, and as they term it, Indian pow-wow, following an afternoon's outing in the woods adjoining the old South Side Country club, is the novel manner in which five well-known South Side bachelors will entertain a large party of invited guests this afternoon and evening.

Outing and Indian attire will be in vogue and many original and amusing features have been planned for the occasion. The entire club house has been reserved for use should the weather prove unfavorable in the open.

The invitation list includes a number from Omaha proper as well as from out of the city. The hosts of the affair are Martin J. Conboy, James P. Sullivan, Frank N. Smith, Edward Cahill and Joseph F. Powers, while acting as chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Novak as well as a number of other couples from the younger married set.

Downey-Impey Wedding. A very pretty wedding was celebrated at high noon yesterday at St. Peter's church, when Miss Gladys Impey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. Impey, became the bride of Mr. Harold Downey, Rev. Father McCarthy officiated and Miss Schoup sang preceding the ceremony.

The church was decorated with palms and white chrysantheums and the family pews were tied with the flowers and large bows of tulle.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin trimmed in Chantilly lace, with court train, the skirt made in panner effect and the waist cut with low square neck and long sleeves. The tulle veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and swansons.

Mrs. Edward Blakely, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a gown of taffeta in Dresden shades of rainbow effect, with tulle draperies. She wore white slippers and carried pink chrysantheums.

Miss George Trimble, maid of honor, was gowned in yellow embroidered tulle with fluted tulle draperies, the skirt short and the waist cut low with angel sleeves of tulle. She carried yellow chrysantheums and wore slippers and stockings of yellow.

Miss Irene Downey, sister of the groom, wore a costume of pink embroidered tulle with pearl trimmings and tulle draperies, with slippers and stockings of pink. She carried white chrysantheums. The three attendants wore hats of gold lace with black crowns and trimmed in roses of rainbow hues.

Mrs. Impey, mother of the bride, was gowned in taupe charmeuse, combined with chiffon of the same shade and trimmed in white lace.

Mrs. Downey, the groom's mother, wore a wistaria satin with chiffon waist trimmed in lace and embroidered in tulle.

Sherman McCaffrey was best man and the ushers were Jack McShane and Robert Hyland.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, at which only the bridal party and relatives were present. A reception was held from 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock. The house was attractively decorated with showers of pink roses hanging from the chandeliers and wall pockets holding yellow chrysantheums. The centerpieces on the table was of pink roses.

The bride gave the groom a dress set and his gift to her was a handsome diamond ring. The bride's attendants received silver Doris boxes, with the exception of the matron of honor, to whom she gave a gold bracelet. Mr. Downey presented his ushers with gold pencils. Mr. and Mrs. Downey left yesterday afternoon for a three weeks' trip to California, after which they will be at home at 1116 South Thirty-fifth street.
